

Annex A

our ref : IA/01063/11

The number of car theory test conducted in 2010/11 broken down by each voiceover and each theory test centre

(In our conversation of 15 August 2011, you agreed that you required only the number of car theory tests conducted in 2010/11 categorised by each voiceover language and theory test centres where there were more than five tests conducted in that particular language and at that particular centre.

Where there were fewer than five tests conducted you agreed for this information to be categorised by voiceover language only.)

Please find attached at Annex B the information. Please note that these figures are slightly different to previous information. Reports are run from a live database where information is regularly reviewed and updated; any reports run will be based on current data held on the data base.

The information supplied to you continues to be protected by copyright. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including for private study and non-commercial research, and for any other purpose authorised by an exception in current copyright law. Documents (except photographs) can be also used in the UK without requiring permission for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder.

Most documents supplied by the Driving Standards Agency will be protected by Crown Copyright. Most Crown copyright information can be re-used under the Open Government Licence (<http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/>). For information about the OGL and about re-using Crown Copyright information please see The National Archives website - <http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/information-management/uk-gov-licensing-framework.htm> .

Copyright in other documents may rest with a third party. For information about obtaining permission from a third party see the Intellectual Property Office's website at www.ipo.gov.uk.