10 February 2011

Dear XX

Information requested under the Freedom of Information Act (FoIA)

Further to my email of 1 February, I can confirm that we have handled your request for information about the age of the youngest approved driving instructor (ADI) in Scotland within the terms of the FoIA.

We can confirm, as of 7 February 2011, our register shows the age of the youngest ADI registered in Scotland is 23. The register shows we have six people aged 23 registered to give driving tuition in Scotland. To get on our register, ADIs pay a subscription charge and complete their registration form.

If you are unhappy with the way we have handled your request, you should ask for an internal review by contacting xx, Information Compliance Manager, at the above address.

Yours sincerely

XX
