

Amended and corrected tables from the Digest of UK Energy Statistics 2012: internet content only and long-term trends

Following the release of the internet content only and long-term trends elements of the Digest of United Kingdom Energy Statistics 2012 on 26 July 2012, a couple of errors within the tables have come to light. These have been corrected on the web site's "Excel" versions of the tables, as well as in the associated PDF files. The Excel package's "comments" facility has been used to indicate the cells where changes have been made.

In the internet content only table J.1, heat sold reallocation, all of the 2011 figures have been corrected as incorrect data was published on 26 July.
