

1) I would like to know what percentage of questions in the theory test are directly based around cyclists; please can I have this information for 2008, 2009 and 2010?

There are 1,120 questions in the car theory test question bank, 40 of these questions are directly based around cyclists. Therefore 3.6% of questions in the car theory test are directly based around cyclists.

The numbers of questions in the car theory test question bank and those directly based around cyclists have remained the same for the periods you have requested.

Please note that this information is based on questions that specifically mention cyclists. There are, however, other questions in the theory test question bank about vulnerable road users, which although don't mention cyclists directly, would apply or refer to cyclists.

The information supplied to you continues to be protected by copyright. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including for private study and non-commercial research, and for any other purpose authorised by an exception in current copyright law. Documents (except photographs) can be also used in the UK without requiring permission for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder.

Most documents supplied by the Driving Standards Agency will be protected by Crown Copyright. Most Crown copyright information can be re-used under the Open Government Licence (<http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/>). For information about the OGL and about re-using Crown Copyright information please see The National Archives website - <http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/information-management/uk-gov-licensing-framework.htm> .

Copyright in other documents may rest with a third party. For information about obtaining permission from a third party see the Intellectual Property Office's website at www.ipo.gov.uk.