

INDEX

Note: index entries do not refer to page numbers. Instead, each Code is identified by its letter, shown in bold, followed by paragraph numbers, and/or note numbers (in italics), and/or references to the Code's Annexes. If only a few paragraphs of the Annex are relevant, their numbers are given in brackets (in italics if the reference is to a note within the Annex).

Example: "C 16.1-10, 16A-D, Annex E (11, E1)" refers to Code C, paragraphs 16.1-10, notes 16A-D, and Annex E (paragraph 11 and note E1).

The Codes contained in this booklet have been issued by the Home Secretary under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 and have been approved by Parliament.

They deal with contacts between the police and public in the exercise of police powers to stop and search and to search premises and with the treatment, questioning and identification of suspects and the tape recording of interviews.

The Codes regulate police powers and procedures in the investigation of crime and set down safeguards and protections for members of the public.

The Codes provide a clear statement of the rights of the individual and the powers of the police. Copies of the Codes issued under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 must be readily available in all police stations for consultation by police officers, detained people and members of the public.
