

Exercise

- In groups of 4, read the Henderson/Miller family case study and individual stories.
- Each member of the group should take one role:
 - 1 person to represent Claire Henderson
 - 1 person to represent Darren Miller
 - 1 person to represent the professional outlining their concern
 - 1 observer
- Role play the discussion between the professional and the parents outlining the areas/issues of concern about neglect, remembering to avoid the use of jargon words – or ensuring that the words are clearly explained.
- The observer should note what helps and what is less effective.

Groups should discuss together with feedback from the members taking part in the role play and then the observer.
