Dear [redacted]

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION: On relevant documents regarding Staffordshire Cheese PDO and Staffordshire Organic Cheese.

Thank you for your request for information concerning Staffordshire Organic and Staffordshire Cheese PDO which we received on 9 October 2013. As you know, we have handled your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA). I am attaching a representative sample of communication relating to your request. This sample has been chosen specifically to illustrate pertinent information regarding Staffordshire Organic cheese and Staffordshire Cheese PDO.

Where there is personal information in these documents they have been redacted in accordance with s. 40 in the FOIA. We have decided that this information should be withheld under section 40(2) (third party personal data) of the FOIA, as the information constitutes personal data relating to Section 40(2) of the FOIA. This provides that personal data relating to third parties is exempt information if disclosure would breach the Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA). We consider that disclosure of this information is likely to breach the first data protection principle in Schedule 1 to the DPA, which relates to the fair and lawful processing of personal data, in two ways. First, disclosure would not constitute 'fair' processing of the personal data, second, disclosure would not satisfy any of the conditions for data processing set out in Schedule 2 to the DPA. Therefore, we have concluded that this information is exempt from disclosure under section 40(2) of the FOIA.

Some of these documents include commercially sensitive information which has been redacted; this has been withheld under s.43 of the Act. This is a qualified exemption subject to the Public interest test and in this case we consider that the commercial activities will be adversely affected by disclosure.

In keeping with the spirit and effect of the [FOIA and in keeping with the government's Transparency Agenda, all information is assumed to be releasable to the public unless exempt. Therefore, the information released to you will now be published on www.gov.uk together with any related information that will provide a key to its wider context. Please note that this will not include your personal data.

I attach Annex A, which explains the copyright that applies to the information being released to you.

I also attach Annex B giving contact details should you be unhappy with the service you have received.

If you have any queries about this letter, please contact me.

Yours
