Thanks for your email.

I am still at work, as is the director in my team responsible for FOI. We have only just been able to touch base on this matter and I am advised that after consulting internally, we have no issues in relation to the documents you intend to release.

My apologies for the delay, but we are exceptionally busy.

Regards,

I understand [redacted] spoke to you about this on Saturday. I am afraid that we still do not seem to have a reply to his e-mail below.

This is now very urgent if we are to meet our statutory deadline.

Thanks for your help

Forgive me if I have missed your reply but I don't think we have received one yet. I can see that [redacted] did not suggest a deadline for reply and I assume you are now at COP but hope that you are still able to pick up your e-mails.

I'd be grateful for a reply as soon as possible so that we can meet our deadline

Thanks for your help

Subject: Freedom of Information request 6A3CF40EAB3330F0CA257A9200399BBD

Dear [REDACTED]

I hope to catch you before COP.

We have received a request under our Freedom of Information Act for the following:
Please supply copies of all correspondence concerning tobacco control between the Department of Health and any Australian governmental department or organisation with a public health remit across the last 12 months (ending 24th October 2012).

We have searched our files and identified a number of relevant documents. We have assessed that a number of documents should be exempted from disclosure under our exemption for "international relations".

However, we believe the emails that are attached do not meet the criteria for exemption, and as such, we should release them. The emails would be released in the state that you see them - with a range of information redacted (the information that has been redacted is either personal information, or information not relevant to the Freedom of Information request).

Before we release the document, I wanted to seek your agreement.

If you want more information on our exemption for "international relations", please let me know.
