1.4(iv) Confirm detailed implementation plan for the increase in employee contributions announced in the Spending review, in response to the recommendation in the interim report of the Independent Public Service Pensions Commissioner (end Jun 2011)	Still not complete	The 2012-13 increased pension contribution rates for civil servants, teachers, the NHS, police, judges, and the UKAEA have been finalised and set out in regulations, following consultations in 2011. Increased rates for fire fighters are still under consideration. All increases will come into effect from 1 April 2012, and we expect to realise the full savings for 2012-13 scored at the Spending Review.
		The Government remains committed to securing in full the Spending Review savings of £2.3bn in 2013-14 and £2.8bn in 2014-15 from further increases to member contributions, and will consult formally on implementation in due course. There will be a review of the impact of the 2012-13 contribution increases, including on optout, before taking final decisions on how future increases will be delivered.
		The funded nature of the local government scheme puts it in a different position and contributions rates are being considered in tandem with wider pension reforms as part of ongoing discussions with trades unions and employer groups. Responses to DCLG's consultation on contribution increases, which closed on 6th January, will feed into those discussions. As set out in the Heads of Agreement signed in December, reform to the local government scheme may include zero contribution increases for all or the vast majority of members provided that overall financial restraints are met.
