Dear Redacted

Re: Freedom of Information Request

Thank you for your email of 18 February 2014 in which you requested the following:

“I would like to see the following – I would like any emails, briefings, minutes or other documents relating to Stephen Lovegrove’s July 2013 meeting with Lord Howell “to discuss energy issues”

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 ('the Act'), you have the right to:

- know whether we hold the information you require
- be provided with that information (subject to any exemptions under the Act which may apply).

I have carried out a search of our electronic and paper records and I have established that the Department does not hold any information within scope of your request.
