Subject: response to Aviation Noise Discussion paper

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to this paper.

LTL is a charity committed to enabling teachers to enhancing the teaching and learning experience by delivering elements of the national curriculum out of doors.

We are aware of issues facing schools underneath flight paths, as outlined in your paper, and would welcome the opportunity to consider the following approaches to mitigating this:

- The use of monetary compensation designated to enable schools to travel further afield to experience learning outdoors in a more peaceful environment on a regular basis
- The exploration of wider use of active noise control methodologies in school environments, including the outdoors, to make those spaces more usable for those schools impacted by aviation noise.

We would be happy to assist with the development of these concepts, including undertaking research, if that was helpful.

Kind Regards

Juno
