Ken,

Apologies for not getting back to you sooner - for some reason this email went into my junk inbox so I didn't see it. Am afraid I'm not able to circulate the slides, but very happy to talk anything through.

Is it worth us getting something in diaries for an initial talk through a likely industry offer for some point in the next couple of weeks / when might be the earliest it's worth discussing this? [Myself and Duarte have some leave coming up end May / beginning June so keen to plan around it]

Many thanks,

REDACTION
