Dear [REDACTED],

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION: CONDEMNED CARCASSES SOLD INTO THE FOOD CHAIN.

Thank you for your request for information about the sale of condemned carcasses entering the food chain, which we received on 01/07/2013. We have handled your request under the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 (EIRs).

The EIRs apply to requests for environmental information, which is a broad category of information defined in regulation 2 of the EIRs. Public authorities are required to handle requests for environmental information under the EIRs. They give similar access rights to the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA).

With regards to your query concerning the sale of condemned carcasses, meat that has been condemned by Food Standard Agency inspectors for whatever reason will not enter the food chain. The FSA's role is to ensure that all meat that enters the food chain is fit for human consumption through ante and post mortem meat inspection by meat hygiene inspectors. No condemned meat is permitted to enter the food chain for human consumption.

Defra complies with these requirements in ensuring that no condemned carcasses are sold into the food chain.

In keeping with the spirit and effect of the EIRs, and in keeping with the government's Transparency Agenda, all information is assumed to be releasable to the public unless exempt. Therefore, the information released to you will now be published on www.gov.uk together with any related information that will provide a key to its wider context. Please note that this will not include your personal data.
