COMMENTARY

Public Bodies 2002 is the latest in a series of annual publications providing information on public bodies sponsored by Government. This edition gives a snapshot as at 31 March 2002.

Public bodies carry out a wide range of functions on behalf of Government and between them, the main ones spend just over £20 billion of public money each year. As part of the Government's commitment to transparency and accountability, the Cabinet Office collects and publishes annually information about public bodies as a whole, to supplement information about individual bodies already contained in departmental Annual Reports.

The scope of this publication

Previous editions of this publication have reported on the public bodies sponsored by the Devolved Administrations as well as UK Government departments. In recognition of the bedding down of the devolved arrangements, this year's publication gives full information, summary statistics and analysis only for bodies sponsored by UK Government departments (this would include the Northern Ireland Office, the Scotland Office and the Welsh Office as appropriate).

Summary information about bodies sponsored by the Scottish Executive is at pages 153-4. Subject to parliamentary approval of the necessary legislative changes, appointments to those bodies will be separately monitored by the Commissioner for Public Appointments for Scotland from 2003.

Information about bodies sponsored by the Welsh Assembly Government and the Northern Ireland Assembly is contained at pages 155-162 and 123-151 respectively. It is proposed that appointments made by the Welsh Assembly Government be separately monitored by a Commissioner for Public Appointments for Wales from 2004. More information can be obtained directly from the Devolved Administrations.

What is a public body?

A public body is not part of a government department, but carries out its function to a greater or lesser extent at arm's length from central government. Ministers are ultimately responsible to Parliament for the activities of the bodies sponsored by their department and in almost all cases (except, for example, where there is separate statutory provision) ministers make the appointments to their boards. Departments are responsible for funding and ensuring good governance of their public bodies. In this publication, each body is listed under the heading of the government department that is its sponsor.

The term "public body" is a general one which includes: Nationalised Industries, such as the British Waterways Board; Public Corporations, such as the BBC; NHS Bodies, which comprise NHS Trusts and Special Health Authorities; and Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs).

There are four types of NDPBs. These denote different funding arrangements, functions and kinds of activity. They are:

- Executive NDPBs established in statute and carrying out administrative, regulatory and commercial functions, they employ their own staff and are allocated their own budgets.
- Advisory NDPBs provide independent and expert advice to ministers on particular topics of interest.
 They do not usually have staff but are supported by staff from their sponsoring department. They do not usually have their own budget, as costs incurred come within the department's expenditure.
- Tribunal NDPBs have jurisdiction in a specialised field of law. They are usually supported by staff from their sponsoring department and do not have their own budgets.
- Boards of Visitors 'watchdogs' of the prison system. Their duty is to satisfy themselves as to the state of the prison premises, their administration and the treatment of prisoners. The sponsoring department meets the costs.

Numbers of bodies

There were 834 public bodies sponsored by UK Government departments as at 31 March 2002. This figure is made up of 3 Nationalised Industries, 11 Public Corporations, 23 NHS bodies and 797 NDPBs. The NDPB group is made up of 192 Executive NDPBs, 428 Advisory NDPBs, 36 Tribunal NDPBs (counted on the basis of tribunal systems rather than individual boards) and 141 Boards of Visitors.

The Government continues to keep the need for each public body under review and new public bodies are only set up when it can be demonstrated that they provide the best means of delivering the function required.

Appointments to public bodies

Thousands of people from a wide range of backgrounds across the whole of the UK, with a variety of skills and experience, participate in public life through appointments to the public bodies listed in this book. You can find summary information about the 22,000 or so men and women serving on the boards of these public bodies on the following pages.

Appointment on merit continues to be the overriding principle for selecting people for an appointment. Alongside this principle, the Government has been working hard to open up public appointments to all suitable people and improving the diversity of the boards that run public bodies. The aim is that public appointments should broadly represent the composition of the population generally.

The overall UK Government target for 2005 is for an even balance of men and women on boards of public bodies; about 6-7% people from a minority ethnic background (to reflect the proportion of people from these communities in the economically active population as a whole); and to increase the number of appointments of people who identify themselves as having a disability from the 2001 figure of 1.5%. Each department has set itself its own target to achieve.

As at 31 March 2002, 34% of appointments made by UK Government departments were held by women; 6.2% by people from a minority ethnic background; and 3.3% by people who had identified themselves as having a disability.

The Government is pleased to see that progress has been good against the minority ethnic community and disability targets, but is disappointed that the proportion of women holding public appointments has remained static this year. Departments will continue to work to improve this.

Regulating the appointment process

The post of Commissioner for Public Appointments was established in November 1995 and the current Commissioner is Dame Rennie Fritchie. The Commissioner's role is to regulate, monitor and report on the way ministers make appointments to the boards of public bodies. The Commissioner's jurisdiction currently covers ministerial appointments to public bodies in Great Britain. There is a separate post of Commissioner for Appointments in Northern Ireland (also currently held by Dame Rennie Fritchie). As already mentioned, there are proposals to set up separate arrangements for Scotland and Wales from 2003 and 2004 respectively.

About half of all public appointments fall within the Commissioner's remit. The Government however seeks to follow the Code of Practice established by the Commissioner as good practice for all public appointments wherever possible. All public bodies falling within the Commissioner's jurisdiction are shown in the following pages as 'OCPA regulated'. Most of the appointments that are not regulated by OCPA are appointments to tribunals, the majority of which are separately regulated by the Commissioner for Judicial Appointments.

TASK FORCES

As well as the data on public bodies, we have also this year included a section listing the Government's task forces, ad hoc advisory groups and reviews. Previously these were reported on separately, and to a different timetable. Including this data in one publication gives a more complete picture of the extended bodies and groups working to deliver government objectives.

In contrast to NDPBs, which have a long-term activity to discharge, task forces, ad hoc advisory groups and reviews have a short-term focus and when their work comes to an end they are disbanded. Their recommendations may of course continue to be taken forward in other parts of government. These groups are usually created to give expert advice to the Government on a specific issue and are usually expected to remain in operation for less than two years.

Some examples of task forces

To illustrate the various roles that task forces and similar bodies can play, here are some examples of groups set up in 2002:

The Lord Chancellor's Department has set up an advisory group to help improve enforcement performance by Magistrates' Courts Committees.

The Department for Education and Skills has set up an advisory group which is currently reviewing and monitoring DfES advice to schools on the handling of education staff and misconduct issues.

The Department of Health has set up a task force to examine the options for achieving successful statutory self-regulation of the herbal medicine profession as a whole.

The Department for Work and Pensions has set up an advisory group to develop, implement, oversee and evaluate the strategy for the programme of activity in the European Year of Disabled People 2003.

Reporting on task forces

The report lists all the task forces, ad hoc advisory groups and reviews in existence between 1 April 2001 and 31 March 2002. Each individual entry sets out:

- the full title;
- the date established;
- the date wound up (if appropriate);
- the number of members and information on the sectors from which members are drawn;
- the name and background of the chair; and
- reporting arrangements (including any reports published).

The report shows that, during 2001/02, there were 47 task forces, 172 ad hoc advisory groups and 45 reviews in existence. 58 of these have now been wound up. At the end of the period therefore there were:

Task Forces	Ad hoc Advisory Groups	Reviews
41	133	32

Compared with the previous year-end figures, the number of task forces has reduced by 7; ad hoc advisory groups by 107 and reviews by 39.

Following the successful passage of the National Heritage Act 2002, English Heritage will assume secretariat responsibilities for the ACHWS during 2002. Following the Quinquennial Review, two new regional members are being sought.

The Directors of the National Gallery, Tate Gallery and National Portrait Gallery are ex-officio members. The long-term future of the Council, its composition and membership are currently under review. During this time it has operated with 18 temporary members co-opted by the Chair. A decision has now been made that the Council should be formally reconstituted and this will happen by April 2003. Review planned for 2002–03.

Review planned for 2002–03.

During 2001, the Scottish Executive carried out a major review of all public bodies within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament as part of its modernisation of democratic structures. The review considered the role public bodies should play in a devolved Scotland, together with how they should operate and be accountable to Scottish Ministers and the Parliament. The report Public Bodies: Proposals For Change (June 2001) announced significant changes to the status and continuation of a number of public bodies. A copy is available at www.scotland.gov.uk/library3/government/pbreview.pdf

As of 30 September 2002 there were 151 public bodies in Scotland comprising:

39 Executive NDPBs 48 Advisory NDPBs 35 Tribunals* 2 Nationalised Industries 1 Public Corporation 26 NHS Bodies

This number is subject to change in line with the recommendations contained in the Scottish Executive publication Proposals for Change.

Further details of Scottish public bodies are available from the Scottish Executive website www.scotland.gov.uk/government/publicbodies or from the Scottish Executive, Public Body and Executive Agency Policy Unit.

Information under the categories 'access to public meetings' and 'minutes of meetings' is not currently available.

The group has no specific remit or reporting schedule. It was created in the light of the Modernising Government White Paper. It meets 2-3 times per year, with membership from the Civil Service, local government, police and health sectors. In 2000-01 it concentrated on progressing the Performance and Innovation Unit public sector leadership report. Since then it has worked closely with HMT's SR2002 cross-cutting review of the public sector labour market. Given the balance of membership, the Forum is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body.

No formal report produced. Forum established to bring together those responsible for the development and training of leaders in key parts of the public sector. Given the balance of membership, the Forum is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Forum as an ANDPB. The future of the Forum will, however, be subject to regular review. Ongoing advice – no specific report. Ongoing advice - no specific report.

The Tobacco Task Force was established in the light of the Government's intention to end the advertising and promotion of tobacco at sports events.

Since its formation the Task Force has been available to provide information and advice to support the development of new marketing strategies, make initial contacts with potential sponsors, and offer professional advice.

The future of the Task Force is currently under review.

NOTES

Established May 2000 to advise the Government on (1) the nature and extent of the UK's involvement in the illicit trade in cultural objects and (2) how most effectively, through legislative and non-legislative means, the UK can play its part in preventing and prohibiting this illicit trade. Forum set up as an ad hoc group to act as a channel of communication between the music industry and government. The Forum is an industry-led body with no defined membership. (Membership is determined on a meeting-by-meeting basis.)

Provides advice to ministers on issues relating to age, and consultation prior to the development of employment legislation on age. Given the balance of membership, the Group is more akin to an internal Official Committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Group as an ANDPB. The Group is subject to regular review. This Reference Group does not produce reports. It operates as a sounding board feeding back to DFES what is happening in Local Education Authorities, and acting as a critical friend on new policy proposals. The Group meets termly. Given the balance of membership, the Group is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Group as an NDPB.

Specific sector advisory role on the development of a national strategy to bring coherence in the delivery of leadership and management programmes to post-16 studies. Reports every 2 months.	Develops proposals for Investors in Children.	The Group has advised the Standards and Effectiveness Unit on the coherent management of the National Literacy and Numeracy Strategies, and on progress towards the national targets for 2002. The Group will continue in existence at least until 2002. Given the balance of membership, the Group is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Group as an ANDPB.	The role of the Group is to advise the DfES, and provide critical feedback on behalf of stakeholders, on the development, evaluation and dissemination of the Government's proposals for new ways of delivering LEA services.	The Group will support the drive to deliver quality and value for money, whilst helping to remove wasteful and unnecessary bureaucracy from post-16 learning. It will develop and operate within an agreed set of principles.

		NOTES
The purpose of the Task Force is to design a programme for the needs of people with a chronic disease or disability.	The purpose of the Working Group is to produce a report which examines the options for achieving the successful statutory self-regulation of the herbal medicine profession as a whole and makes recommendations which will form the basis for a wider consultation by the Government and subsequently for the legislation that will enable the statutory regulation of the herbal medicine profession. In the light of these recommendations for the statutory regulation of the profession and the current MCA review of section 12(1) of the Medicines Act 1968, the Working Group will make recommendations for assuring the safety and quality of herbal remedies supplied under section 12(1).	The purpose of the Task Force is to oversee the implementation of the aspects of the NHS Plan relating to health inequalities and public health; to oversee the Tackling Health Inequalities consultation on delivering the new national health inequalities targets; and to support the Treasury-led cross-cutting spending review on health inequalities as necessary.	The purpose of the Task Force is to oversee implementation of the aspects of the NHS Plan relating to mental health services.	The Task Force reported in November 1998 but has remained in existence to monitor the implementation of its recommendations. It has also taken on some new work (such as work in relation to the report of the Waterhouse inquiry into child abuse in children's homes in north Wales). The Government response to Waterhouse was published in June 2000. Given the balance of membership, the Task Force is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Task Force as an ANDPB, although its future will be subject to regular review.

The Group meets on an ad hoc basis to consider and advise on issues of concern arising from the initiatives linked to the development of the Quality Mark. The Quality Mark standard for barristers' chambers is expected to be published in summer 2002. The Group will continue to meet on an ad hoc basis (possibly twice a year) to advise on any issues of concern arising during the initial stages of the scheme. The Board was established to oversee the transfer of lead responsibility for the execution of a range of warrants of arrest from the police to Magistrates' Courts Committees by April 2001. The Group acted as an advisory body which was consulted on project proposals and secondary legislation. The Review was supported by a team of 7-8 civil servants, and involved, informally and not as a body, a number of outsiders.

The Group has an ongoing remit to oversee implementation of the recommendations of the earlier Vulnerable or Intimidated Witnesses Working Group. Given the balance of membership, the Group is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify it as an ANDPB. The future of the Group will, however, be subject to regular review. Following on from the Criminal Justice Review recommendation (208), an Aftercare Working Group has been established with the following terms of reference: to develop a strategy for the future provision of through-care for adults sentenced to custody from point of sentence to 12 months after release, in order to reduce the likelihood of reoffending and encourage integration into the community. The Review resulted in the preparation and agreement of standards for pre-sentence reports and the introduction of an abbreviated form, to be known as a 'specific sentence report', for use in particular circumstances. The standards will be operational from June 2002. The report recommended that Probation Officers continue to qualify using the social work route but that additional criminal justice competences be incorporated into the revised Diploma in Social Work. A Working Group is taking forward negotiations with the curriculum providers. Group under review.

Now renamed the Ministerial Advisory Group on Nanotechnology Applications.		The Group is an industry-led body of organisations that have an interest in credit management/late payment. Its aim is to promote better payment culture in the UK. Members are selected by the Group itself. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the group as an ANDPB (as ANDPB controls would be unsuitable). The future of the Group will, however, be kept under regular review.	One subgroup reports to the Steering Group.	The Group has been established in the wake of the collapse of ENRON to ensure that the effectiveness of UK systems of financial reporting and audit regulation is reviewed thoroughly by the appropriate regulators.

Given the balance of membership, the Committee is more akin to an internal official committee than an external body. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Committee as an ANDPB. The future of the Committee will however be subject to regular review.

Membership comprises representatives from employer bodies and the TUC, and officials from Inland Revenue and other government departments. As there is no defined membership, it would be inappropriate to classify the body as an ANDPB (as ANDPB controls would be unsuitable).

The status of the Group is currently under review. Jobcentre Plus Stakeholders' Forum is a consultative group that liaises with customer representatives and obtains feedback on proposed plans in the Jobcentre Plus area. 		NOTES
The Consultation Panel for the Replacement of the Minimum Funding Requirement (MFR) was set up to assist in developing the detailed policy for legislation on the replacement of the MFR, which applies to defined benefit occupational pension schemes. The Panel consists of expert representatives from the pensions industry, customer organisations, employers and trade unions.	The Working Group has an ongoing remit to provide a means for DWP officials and representatives of major disability organisations to discuss the strategy and planning of an incremental programme of improvements to modernise the delivery of Attendance Allowance and Disability Living Allowance. The Group is made up of representatives and has no defined membership. It would therefore be inappropriate to classify the Group as an ANDPB (as ANDPB controls would be unsuitable). The future of the Group will, however, be kept under regular review.	The Committee's purpose is to develop, agree, implement, oversee and evaluate strategy for a successful programme of activity for the European Year of Disabled People 2003.	There is no fixed membership for the Forums – they are public events rather than private meetings. These events commenced in June 2001 and a summary report is produced within 3 months of the date of each Forum. The Forums are organised for delegates of national and regional organisations. The objectives are to: provide information to delegates; obtain feedback on front-line services from front-line workers; and consult on new projects and initiatives. The main event is the Annual Forum. This is a general forum for customer advisors and representatives, which is attended by senior officials. The last four events have	*Local authority and university staff. Working group consisting of DWP, Local Government Association, individual Local Authorities and voluntary sector organisations working together to increase the take-up of social security benefits (MIG – pension credit) by older people. The focus is to help reduce poverty by ensuring that older people receive their full benefit entitlement.
