Dear Sir

DECC Consultation: Review of the Siting Process for a Geological Disposal Facility

I write on behalf of Norfolk County Council with regard to the above consultation by the Department of Environment and Climate Change. Norfolk County Council agrees that any approach to siting a facility of this nature should be based on volunteerism and welcome the continued commitment of DECC to this approach. We believe that the associated Right of Withdrawal should only be removed after the completion of the planning process and subject to a final test of public support.

Yours faithfully

David Harrison
Cabinet Member for Environment, Transport and Waste
