Dear [REDACTED]

Further to my email of 20 February, I am writing to let you know how we have dealt with the issues you have raised in respect of the olive oil on sale in Harrods.

UK Trading Standards officers raised this issue with the store. As a result of their investigation, the company will be making changes to rectify the labelling of the olive oil. All stock currently in the business will be uplifted from the business by the vendor, and will be replaced as soon as labels have been approved, printed and applied.

We have asked Trading Standards Officers to monitor the situation to make sure the changes are implemented.

I hope you find this solution satisfactory but please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further queries about this matter or any other issues relating to enforcement of the protection granted to PDOs and PGIs.

Kind regards
