The Institute of Licensed Trade Stock Auditors

We provide a range of services to pubs across the U.K. Our members are qualified to give independent advice to SME's and owner operators of all types of operation.

All our members have had experience with clients who, as leasees or tenants of pub companies, have been caused considerable harm, both to the individuals concerned and the Licensed Trade as a whole.

We would support any move to bring larger (500+ units) companies under scrutiny, and to provide a statutory framework of control to ensure a fairer deal for those people who have found it increasingly difficult to continue in business over the last few years.

The treatment of leasees and tenants must be separated because of the greatly differing obligations under the agreements that exist.
