

Filip

Thank you. I shall be happy to assist in resolving such issues as AMEC are finding as rapidly as possible. I await your next contact.

As I offered below, if it's easier to resolve those issues in a meeting, I'm happy to come to Brussels or indeed to meet the consultants here in the UK.

Best wishes

Richard

Dear Richard

Thank you for your message.

Our consultants (AMEC) have indeed started the assessment of all TNPs submitted.

We expect them to provide us with the first results of their completeness checks and initial screening in the next weeks.

However, they already indicated issues of consistency and formatting as regards the UK TNP, which might need to be resolved before continuing the more thorough analysis.

As soon as we have received more precise information from them, I will contact you directly (in addition to a possible more formal reply).

Best regards

I would be grateful if we could find some time to discuss the UK TNP submission, now that (I assume) your consultants (but who are they?) are beginning their work. There may be various points which I can help clarify so as to ease not only their task but also yours in reaching a view on the TNP's acceptability. There are also a few other points about the Directive and about the BREF process which I would be grateful to explore.

I understand that there is to be an Article 13 Forum meeting on 6 June so I wonder if I could meet you in Brussels sometime the day before.

If 5 June is not possible, I can offer:

21 May, any time after 11.00 your time;

any time in the morning of 22 May; or 4 June, any time after 11.00 your time.

Best wishes

Richard
