Dear Dr Cable and
My husband is employed by one of the Pub Companies that this enquiry will be looking into, Punch Taverns.

We, as a family living in what is a challenging part of , are reliant on the income that he earns from this national company and are concerned about the potential threat to his job from any Government legislation which results from this consultation. It is evident that it would be very difficult to replace this income given the current challenging job market. It is also likely that we would have to relocate away from the area and from our families in order to find a comparable job. The economy needs families like us who bring our income into the area through our purchase of goods and services locally.

Please be mindful that your enquiry into the relationship between the pubcos and their tenants could have a very significant impact, and the people who will feel it the most are ordinary hard-working families like ours.

Yours sincerley

The company sending this e-mail is a member of the Punch Taverns group of companies, the ultimate parent of which is Punch Taverns plc (company number 3752645).
