

8/8

---

From: .....
Sent: 14 June 2013 09:29
To: Lorely@lorellyburt.org.uk
Cc: Pubs Consultation Responses; cablev@parliament.uk
Subject: Fair Pint

Dear Lorely

I am writing to you as a member of the Sales and Service team for Enterprise Inns. I am very passionate about our industry and feel strongly about how unfairly certain parties are towards my company at the moment. I can honestly say that everyone I know that is employed by Enterprise Inns does nothing but help Publicans at every level and stage. Everything we do on a daily basis is geared towards working together in partnership with Publicans – if they fail, we fail so why would we make it more difficult for them? I believe that there are discussions in parliament very shortly and the outcome from this could impact a great deal of hard working colleagues and customers that do work with us.

The company offers lots of support whether that is financial, free training or marketing support however very little of this positive activity is reported on?

From a personal level I love dealing with my Publicans and get on fantastically well with the vast majority of them. Every day has its challenges but however my role is to provide an absolutely top notch service to everyone I deal with and I do this with great pride.

I do hope that all aspects of our industry are investigated and are not just based on the accusations of the minority that simply shout the loudest. I am very concerned that if the decision goes against us that it would have a massive impact on the local community, and could mean fewer local jobs not only for Enterprise but also our tenants.

Kind regards

-----
This email was received from the INTERNET.

Communications via the GSi may be automatically logged, monitored and/or recorded for legal purposes.
-----

04/12/2013