

Dear Department of Energy and Climate Change,

I've heard about the consultation about nuclear waste disposal. Community consent is crucial if we want to dispose of nuclear waste safely. Limiting that, in the way the consultation suggests, is counter productive.

We all want the nuclear waste programme to be done safely and sustainably. The best way of ensuring this is to make sure the community are involved in every step of the way. I don't think the proposed changes achieve this.

Yours sincerely,

Miriam Harding
