Dear Consultee

Re: Call for Evidence – Refuse Derived Fuel Market in England

I am writing to invite you to provide input to this call for evidence into Refuse Derived Fuel (RDF) for both domestic use and for export. The purpose of this call is to gain a greater understanding of the RDF market in England; any issues associated with the market and how these might best be addressed. Your views, and any additional evidence you may provide, will be used to inform the development of policy options.

The following documents relating to this Call for Evidence can be found on Defra's website at:

- A copy of this letter
- The Call for Evidence document
- A list of those organisations/individuals invited to comment (comments are welcome from any interested parties)

If you wish to obtain a copy of this Call for Evidence please e-mail the Residual Waste team at: efw@defra.gsi.gov.uk

This “Call for Evidence” is in line with the Code of Practice on Consultations. This can be found at www.cabinetoffice.gov.uk/resource-library/consultation-principles-guidance.

Members of the public may ask for a copy of a response under the freedom of information legislation. If you do not want your name, contact details and any other personal information to be publically available, please say so clearly in writing when you send your response to the Call for Evidence. Please note, if your computer automatically includes a confidentiality disclaimer that will not count as a confidentiality request.

Please explain why you need your details to be kept confidential. We will take your reasons into account if a request is made for this information under freedom of information legislation. However, because of the law, we cannot promise that we will always be able to keep those details confidential.

We will summarise all responses and notify you when the summary is available.

Thank you for your help in this matter. If you have any queries please contact the Residual Waste team as above.

Yours faithfully

Residual Waste Team
