

Exercise

In the group, discuss:

- How would you convince a member of the public that your concerns about neglect are as pressing, if not more pressing, than their concerns about sexual abuse?
- How would you convince a journalist that child neglect merits as much attention as sexual abuse?
- If a parent group from a local school asked you to help with their campaign about preventing child sexual abuse, how would you encourage them to consider the effects of child neglect as well?