Dear Redacted

Re: Environmental Information Regulations Request

Thank you for your email of 26 March in which you asked for the following:

“Please disclose all correspondence between ministers at DECC and the energy firm ‘SSE’ regarding energy prices.”

I can confirm that DECC holds some information within scope of your request. The information we do hold is environmental in nature and has therefore been considered in accordance with the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 (EIRs). This information is withheld in accordance with the exception in Regulation 12(5)(e) and Regulation 13(1) of the EIRs.

Regulation 12(5)(e)

Regulation 12(5)(e) exempts information if disclosure would adversely affect the confidentiality of commercial or industrial information where such confidentiality is provided by law to protect a legitimate economic interest.

The use of Regulation 12 is subject to a public interest test. In this context, we recognise that there is a general public interest in the disclosure of information as greater transparency makes Government more accountable. Against this there is a public interest in ensuring that the commercial interests of external businesses are not damaged or undermined by the disclosure of information which is not common knowledge and which could adversely impact their ability to operate and compete in the market. In this case, the emails contain commercially sensitive information and disclosure would affect the commercial interests of the company. We therefore consider the balance of the public interest lies in withholding this information.

Regulation 13(1)

Regulation 13(1) exempts information to the extent that the information requested includes personal data of which the applicant is not the data subject. Regulation 13(1) provides an absolute exemption (i.e. the public interest test does not apply) for information about identifiable individuals where this would breach the Data Protection Act 1998. Personal data of third parties can only be disclosed in accordance with the data protection principles. In particular, the first data protection principle requires that disclosure must be fair and lawful and must comply with one of the conditions in Schedule 2 of the Data Protection Act. We do not think that it is fair to release the names of third parties and do not think that any of the relevant conditions apply.

Appeals procedure

If you are dissatisfied with the handling of your request, you have the right to ask for an internal review. Internal review requests should be submitted within two months of the date of receipt of the response to your original letter and should be addressed to the Information Rights Unit (foi@decc.gsi.gov.uk).
