1087.

On seeing the interview on the BBC yesterday with regards to the BIS consultation i felt compelled to email you with my thoughts as a tenant with Enterprise Inns.

and i decided over a year ago that we would like to move into the pub industry but was not sure how we could do this with limited funds. Other than contacting Enterprise Inns there appeared no other option as we could not afford to buy a free house.

We have now had the tenancy on the ' ' in ' ' for just over a year. I can not say in this time it has been smooth but what i can say is that without the support of Enterprise Inns we would not still be here. The support in the head office function and field based managers have helped us move through what was hard times and we really now feel that we are coming out of the back of it.

As much as we have not had financial support we have had leaniacy and moral support and advice from different sections of the company. As we have never ran a buisness before we could not have done what we have done without the confidence of a shoulder and someone to talk to.

I do hope that the comittee see it from all angles as i do not believe that the value of the pubco is truly appreciated and a balance does need to be met.

Kind Regards

Publican
