Dear Mr Cable

I am writing this email to let you know of our great relationship and working partnership with Punch Taverns and how with the new leases they offer you can make a public house work in this modern age. We work along side Punch to develop our business. We have an option to source beers from local micro breweries, we are free of tie on all wines minerals and spirits giving us greater buying power and picking the deals that are right for us.

We feel Punch have reacted to a common problem in the pub sector... Greedy pub companies. If you give publicans a fair rent, beer prices and Terms and conditions both parties can enjoy successful and profitable rewards.

Regards
