

Since September 2009 all calls to directory enquiries 118 have been barred by default.

For users who request additional calling features such as international calls, they have access to directory enquiries.

No calls have been made to directory enquiries 118.