

I believe the Government should support the application as part of a strategy for a low carbon, mixed technology energy policy.