

Directors and Board expenses

2012 - 2013

June 2013

The Environment Agency delivers flood risk management, environmental regulation and other environmental services across England and Wales. Our Head Office is in Bristol, with a further office at Millbank in London. The nature of the work of the Chairman, Chief Executive and Directors requires a significant degree of travel in England and Wales, with early starts and late finishes necessitating overnight stays.

So that the Environment Agency can remain effectively networked with the European Commission and environmental regulators in other countries, some foreign travel is required.

To minimise carbon emissions, travel in the UK is mostly undertaken using public transport, with best value delivered both for travel and for hotel accommodation through the Environment Agency's procurement contracts.
