Dear [REDACTED]

No problem, I can offer a slot on 9th January at 10am for 45 minutes? Please let me know if that works.

Many thanks,

Dear [REDACTED]

Brad Corson has had to delay his return to the UK in January to the 8th January for unavoidable reasons; he has asked me to convey his sincere apologies but he will no longer be able to make the 8th January, 2pm meeting. Would any of the dates/times below work for the Secretary of State for 45 minutes?

Thursday 9th January (morning)
Friday 10th January (morning)
Monday 13th January (morning)
Tuesday 11th February (morning)

If not, do please propose some further times that would be OK for you and we will work with these.

I am really sorry about this – many thanks for your understanding and I do wish you a very happy Christmas and New Year.

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks for the email. Unfortunately Brad cannot make the 15th January but has proposed the following alternatives in January:

January 8th (a slot between 10.00-12.00 or 14.00-16.00)
January 9th (as above)
January 10th (as above)
January 13th (a slot between 10.00-12.00)

My apologies that this is taking so long – would any of these work for you (assuming about a 45 min. meeting duration)?

Many thanks,

Hi [REDACTED]

Sorry for the delay, I've been on leave. Would 10am on 15 Jan work? If not please let me know some slots that work and I can see what I can fit in.

Many thanks,

Hi [REDACTED]

I'm really sorry but I need to move your meeting with the SoS next week due to a Cabinet Committee that has gone into the diary.

I will be in touch soon to offer a new slot.

Many thanks,

Dear [REDACTED]

We spoke yesterday concerning a meeting with Ed Davey for Brad Corson of ExxonMobil. This is to confirm that Brad Corson can make October 9th 2013 at 16.45 for 45 minutes.

Please could you confirm that this date and time is now fixed?

Many thanks,
