

Dear Sir

After reading through your presentation/consulting document I wondered why no mention is made to anywhere else in the world that this Advance Boiling Water Reactor is in place and has there been any issues with how it affects the community in general or contamination of water. I find this rather strange because for any new product to be introduced to the public previous experiences are vital. If I have missed this information and it is hidden in all the attachments could you please identify where it is.

Thank you

Jack Crossfield
Secretary NW Regional Pensioners Association.