

From: [redacted]

Sent: 31 July 2013 11:43

To: [redacted]

Cc: [redacted]

Subject: Centenaries

We've been looking into funding possibilities for the Armenian community in the UK to who are working on the commemorations around the centenary of the Armenian massacres. The most likely source of funding is the Heritage Lottery Fund which has set aside money for First World War related activities. Before we suggest this funding to them, we wanted to check whether it would cause offence / be considered insensitive to place the Armenian massacres under the umbrella of WW1. Grateful for your thoughts.

Many thanks,

[redacted]