Description of change:

The introduction of a new code-set to replace code-set D00223 to: 1) change the meaning of code NG from “Welsh National Test Reading Progress Score” to “Welsh National Test Progress Score” and 2) introduce a new code of NE meaning “Welsh National Test Progress Score Difference”.

Reason for change (including benefits):

To ensure that the codeset is up-to-date and reflects changes in Welsh test structures.

Impact of not doing the change:

Using the old code-set would mean Welsh schools were unable to pass accurate test results via CTFs, which is a statutory requirement.

ISB view of the proposed change:

RFC 728: whilst accepting the rationale and the need for change, ISB suggests that changing the definition of a code makes longitudinal analysis more complex and that the alternative of introducing a new code to carry the new meaning may be preferable.
