I wanted to give Shell an early warning, have their view on this as soon as possible, decide next week, so we can proceed with inviting Ukrainians.

I don't want to change the dates, of course, before we've heard from UK speakers.

Next week will be the time to decide on Ukrainians anyway. Sorry if it wasn't clear from my message, my fault.

Dear [REDACTED]

We have a meeting with Shell tomorrow and I can ask them about the exposure in Crimea in terms of monetary value. They have some petrol stations down there I am just not sure of the value.

[REDACTED]

The main UK/international companies involved in Crimea are Shell [REDACTED] although there may also be some smaller ones which we don't know about. UKTI did some work on this recently and I will try to dig it out and send to you separately

Subject: Shell seminar 15 April - thank you!

[REDACTED]

Thank you so much for your great presentation at our seminar.

It addressed the most important issues, now very relevant for Ukraine, being at the very start of the "unconventionals" journey.

A special thank you from Shell Ukraine – they thought that your presentation was just perfect for the seminar agenda.

I also spoke to the local Ministry of Energy staff, they were also very interested and will come back with more specific questions on the setup of the OUGO and its work.

Many participants also thanked you for being such a great and "live" presenter, they (and me included!) were impressed with your style.

Again, many thanks for taking the time to deliver this presentation. And just so you know – although you could only see the 5 people on the panel on your computer, our actual audience was over 35 people from businesses and government, including from Kharkiv and Donetsk regions.

We're looking forward to working with you on our future projects – no more short notices, promise.

Have a nice Easter weekend.

Cheers,

[REDACTED]
Many thanks for your time and a useful discussion this morning.

As agreed, we will look to arrange a visit of up to five Ukrainian regulators to the UK in October, followed by a seminar (workshop) on key regulatory issues in mid-November. We will ask the participants of the visit to present about their visit at our seminar and outline key best practice they think applicable for Ukraine.

Grateful if you could send us the focus topics for the visit, which Ukrainian officials you'd like to invite and any suggestions for their programme in the UK.

Could you please also send us your suggestions for the focus topics of the seminar and any agenda/speaker suggestions.

We will then follow up with the seminar implementer. I provisionally spoke to [REDACTED] and they are on board.

Happy to discuss further.

Cheers,
