UK government sets out vision for global climate deal in Paris 2015

Paris 2015: Securing Our Prosperity through a Global Climate Change Agreement sets out how prosperity and carbon reduction can go hand in hand to grow the world economy. It explains why we need a global climate deal, why one is good for the UK and what it needs to look like when world leaders have finalised the deal in Paris in 2015. Read more here.

The UN summit on climate change this month has also fired the starting gun to a critical fifteen months of climate diplomacy. More than 120 world leaders gathered in New York to offer high level political support and momentum to efforts for a global climate deal at the key Paris summit in December 2015. Demonstrating the UK as the best place in the world to invest in offshore wind

Abu Dhabi-owned green energy giant Masdar will invest £525 million for a 35% stake in the planned Dudgeon offshore wind farm (off the north Norfolk coast), alongside Norwegian partners Statoil and Statkraft.

The Dudgeon wind farm, which is expected to start generating electricity in 2017, could support 450 jobs and generate enough electricity to power approximately 410,000 homes every year.

Local businesses interested in supplying goods and services for the construction phase can register with GROW: Offshore Wind programme.

Encouraging consumers to buy heating oil early

Energy Minister Matt Hancock is backing a campaign encouraging heating oil users to stock up early before winter sets in.

The Buy Oil Early campaign has been launched by the following organisations:

Action with Communities in Rural England (ACRE)

Citizens Advice

Federation of Petroleum Suppliers (FPS)

The campaign highlights that early orders can benefit from lower prices and prompt delivery of fuel.

Details of oil-buying groups can be found here. To create or join a community buying group, click here.
