Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing in response to your request for information regarding the below received on 3 November 2014. Your request has been handled under Section 1(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. In accordance with Section 1(1)(a) of the Act I hereby confirm that the CNC/CNPA does not hold information of the type specified.

1/ The number of seizures brought under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 for each of the last 5 financial years (from 2009/10 to 2013/14 inclusive). Please break down numbers of seizures (which should include all unsuccessful ones) by type of POCA order (confiscation, cash forfeiture etc.), the value of the seizures and the amount retained by the police. It would be especially helpful if the information was provided in the attached table.

2/ For each of the last two financial years (2012/13 and 2013/14), please can you detail how money collected or retained by the force has been spent, giving specific purchases where possible.

For clarification:

-Money 'retained' refers to money seized under any type of POCA order type (cash forfeiture, confiscation order etc.) that was returned to or remained with the police.

-Under the Act, cash refers to not only notes and coins in any currency, but also bankers' drafts and cheques of any kind (including travellers' cheques)

**CLARIFICATION, THIS REQUEST REFERS TO THE VALUE OF ASSETS AS WELL AS CASH SEIZED. THE TEXT BELOW HAS BEEN AMENDED****

The Civil Nuclear Constabulary is a specialist armed police service dedicated to the civil nuclear industry, with Operational Policing Units based at 11 civil nuclear sites in England, Scotland and Wales and over 1400 police officers and staff. The Constabulary headquarters is at Culham in Oxfordshire. The civil nuclear industry forms part of the UK's critical national infrastructure and the role of the Constabulary contribute to the overall framework of national security.

The purpose of the Constabulary is to protect licensed civil nuclear sites and to safeguard nuclear material in transit. The Constabulary works in partnership with the appropriate Home Office Police Force or Police Scotland at each site. Policing services required at each site are agreed with nuclear operators in accordance with the Nuclear Industries Security Regulations 2003 and ratified by the UK regulator, the Office for Nuclear Regulation (ONR). Armed policing services are required at most civil nuclear sites in the United Kingdom. The majority of officers in the Constabulary are Authorised Firearms Officers.

The Constabulary is recognised by the Association of Chief Police Officers of England, Wales and Northern Ireland (ACPO) and the Association of Chief Police Officers in Scotland (ACPOS). Through the National Coordinated Policing Protocol, the Constabulary has established memorandums of understanding with the local police forces at all 11 Operational Policing Units. Mutual support and assistance enable the Constabulary to maintain focus on its core role.

We take our responsibilities under the Freedom of Information Act seriously but, if you feel your request has not been properly handled or you are otherwise dissatisfied with the outcome of your request, you have the right to complain.
