

We were asked:

Q1. How much money in total has been spent on Computer Technology, Systems and Services within your Department over the last 10 financial years and how much of this budget has been spent on failed systems and services?

We replied:

A1. The Wales Office was established in July 1999. There are no records held for computer technology, systems or services expenditure before 2005/06. The Department's IT is provided by the Ministry of Justice and the costs are set out below:

Year Total Cost (£)

2005/06	158,869
2006/07	184,618
2007/08	194,753
2008/09	113,595
2009/10	183,988
2010/11	113,495
2011/12	133,972
2012/13	128,391

The Wales Office holds no information regarding spend on any failed systems and services as the Department uses the Ministry of Justice IT system.
