Information Released

Unfortunately, Companies House does not collate this information in the format you have requested as we do not hold accurate records relating to a company's specific business activities.

However, we do provide a snapshot of the company register as a free company data product which may assist you in locating the type of company requested. The spreadsheets containing this information can be accessed via the following link:

http://download.companieshouse.gov.uk/en_output.html

From these spreadsheets a 'Find' search could be undertaken in an attempt to locate the type of companies you are seeking. For example, you could search using the word 'Recruitment' or by using the UK Standard Industrial Classification of Economic Activities (SIC code) that relates to a company of this nature.
