Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your email of 24 August 2015 requesting the following information:

*Any information/reports on the subject of so called 'remote viewing' since the 2001/2002 MOD study which was released on 12.1.07 as part of a FOI request.
Have there been follow-up studies since 2001/2002 particularly as the 2001/2002 report notes that some subjects were able to access some of the specified targets?*

I am treating your correspondence as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA).

A search for the information has now been completed within the Ministry of Defence, and I can confirm that no information in scope of your request is held.

Under Section 16 of the Act (Advice and Assistance) you may find it helpful to note that the Ministry of Defence only undertook one study, in 2002, on remote viewing and no further work has been undertaken, nor is any planned. As you have highlighted this study was made available to the general public following release in 2007 under the Freedom of Information Act.

If you are not satisfied with this response or you wish to complain about any aspect of the handling of your request, then you should contact me in the first instance. If informal resolution is not possible and you are still dissatisfied then you may apply for an independent internal review by contacting the Information Rights Compliance team, 1st Floor, MOD Main Building, Whitehall, SW1A 2HB (e-mail CIO-FOI-IR@mod.uk). Please note that any request for an internal review must be made within 40 working days of the date on which the attempt to reach informal resolution has come to an end.

If you remain dissatisfied following an internal review, you may take your complaint to the Information Commissioner under the provisions of Section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act. Please note that the Information Commissioner will not investigate your case until the MOD internal review process has been completed. Further details of the role and powers of the Information Commissioner can be found on the Commissioner's website, <http://www.ico.gov.uk>.

Yours sincerely

Joint Forces Command, DI Secretariat
