FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000 REQUEST REF: FOI 0546-16

Thank you for your email of 26 May 2016 asking for information under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 2000. You asked:

"...there is one more document of which I would like a copy - my farewell Despatch before leaving in mid-1992."

I can confirm that the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) does hold this information. Please find attached your farewell Despatch of August 1992.

Once an FOI request is answered, it is considered to be in the public domain. To promote transparency, we may now publish the response and any material released on gov.uk in the FOI releases section. All personal information in the letter will be removed before publishing.

The copy of the information being supplied to you continues to be protected by the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including any non-commercial research you are doing and for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder. Most documents supplied by the FCO will have been produced by government officials and will be protected by Crown Copyright. To re-use Crown Copyright documents please consult the Open Government Licence v3 on the National Archives website.

Information you receive which is not subject to Crown Copyright continues to be protected by the copyright of the person, or organisation, from which the information originated. You must ensure that you gain their permission before reproducing any third party (non-Crown Copyright) information.

Yours sincerely,

Caribbean Territories and Strategy Department

We keep and use information in line with the Data Protection Act 1998. We may release this personal information to other UK government departments and public authorities.
