How much money you could get

If you are claiming or are thinking of claiming a benefit, you may want to know how much money you could get.

If you are already getting a benefit or benefits, you may want to check the amounts you get.

This leaflet can help, but it is only a general guide. It provides a list of standard benefits and the basic rates of benefits from April 2016. It then sets out some rules on extra amounts payable for dependants, and on how income and savings can affect entitlement to benefits. It does not list all the rules which explain whether or not you can get a benefit, or guarantee that you will get any amount shown.

The rules which decide how much benefit you can get can be complicated. We can only work out what benefit, and the amount you may get, when you apply for a benefit.

Most rates change in the first full week of the tax year, which will be week beginning 11 April 2016. All amounts quoted are weekly unless otherwise stated.

Extra amounts for dependants

Dependent adults

For a wife, husband, civil partner (except in the case of State Pension) or a person looking after children if you are getting any of the following.

State Pension on your own NICs	£65.70
Unemployability Supplement	£62.10
Carer's Allowance	£36.55
Severe Disablement Allowance	£36.75
Long-term Incapacity Benefit	£61.20
Short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are under State Pension age	£47.65
Short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are over State Pension age	£58.90

Dependent children

With any of the benefits listed above:

For the oldest child who gets Child Benefit	£8.00
For each other child who gets Child Benefit	£11.35

Not available to new claims starting from 6 April 2003 or later.

Earnings rules

Your own earnings

If you get Carer's Allowance, you can earn up to £110 (after certain expenses) before it affects your benefit.

If you get Incapacity Benefit, Severe Disablement Allowance or Employment and Support Allowance, you may be able to earn up to £20 or £115.50 before it affects your benefit

If you get State Pension or a Bereavement benefit (including Widow's benefit), you can earn any amount and it does not affect these benefits. But if you also get Income Support, Pension Credit or income-based JSA, anything you earn could reduce these benefits.

Universal Credit

If you are getting Universal Credit and you start working you will be able to keep some of the money that you earn before the amount of Universal Credit you get is affected. This is called a Work Allowance. Only one work allowance is allowed in one household whichever is the most.

Higher work allowance (taking the highest of whichever of the following amounts is applicable)

Single claimant

Not responsible for a child or qualifying young person	Nil
Responsible for one or more children or qualifying young persons	£397
With limited capability for work	£397

Joint claimants

Neither responsible for a child or qualifying young person	Nil
Responsible for one or more children or qualifying young persons	£397
One or both have limited capability for work	£397

Lower work allowance (taking the highest of whichever of the following amounts is applicable)

Single claimant

Not responsible for a child or qualifying person	Nil
Responsible for one or more children or qualifying young persons	£192
With limited capability for work	£192

Joint claimants

Not responsible for a child or qualifying young person	Nil
Responsible for one or more children or qualifying young persons	£192
One or both have limited capability for work	£192

When you are earning more than your work allowance, we will gradually reduce the amount of Universal Credit you get paid. We will apply this reduction after all tax, National Insurance and pension contributions have been made.

Other person's earnings

Amounts added for dependent adults

If a dependent adult lives with you, you will not get extra for them or your benefit will be reduced if they earn more than the amount which applies below.

State Pension	£73.10
Long-term Incapacity Benefit	£73.10
Severe Disablement Allowance	£73.10
Unemployability Supplement standard rate	£73.10
One of the above benefits and your extra benefit started before 16 September 1985	£45.09

Short-term Incapacity Benefit if you are over State Pension age	£58.90
Long-term Incapacity Benefit	£61.20
Unemployability Supplement	£62.10
Severe Disablement Allowance	£36.75
Carer's Allowance	£36.55

Amounts added for dependent children

This extra benefit may be affected if your husband, wife or civil partner lives with you and is paid more than the following weekly amount:

For one child	£230
---------------	-------------

For each extra child add the following to the amount for one child	£30
--	------------

Amounts added for dependants – occupational and personal pensions

For claims since 26 November 1984, an occupational or personal pension paid to your partner counts as earnings for the purposes of the earnings rules for amounts added for dependent adults and dependent children above.

Common rules

Some common rules apply to:

- Income Support
- Income-based Jobseeker's Allowance, and
- income-related Employment and Support Allowance.

These rules are set out below.

Savings rules (also called capital rules)

The following limits apply:

- | | |
|---|----------------|
| • Upper limit (income-based JSA, income-related ESA and IS) | £16,000 |
| • Lower limit (income-based JSA, income-related ESA and IS) | £6,000 |

For people living in care homes, the following limits apply:

- | | |
|---|----------------|
| • Upper limit (income-based JSA, income-related ESA and IS) | £16,000 |
| • Lower limit (income-based JSA, income-related ESA and IS) | £10,000 |

Income from capital rules

Owning capital may mean you get less benefit.

Income-based JSA, income-related ESA and IS

If you have capital over £6,000 up to £16,000. For each £250 or part of £250 of capital you have, your benefit is reduced by £1 a week.

If you have capital of over £16,000. You cannot normally get these benefits.

If you live in a care home, and have capital over £10,000 up to £16,000. For each £250 or part of £250 of capital you have, your benefit is reduced by £1 a week.

Universal Credit

If you have capital over £6,000 up to £16,000

For each £250 or part of £250 of capital you have, your benefit is reduced by £4.35 per month.

If you have capital of over £16,000. You cannot normally get Universal Credit.

Benefit cap

The benefit cap can be applied either through Housing Benefit or Universal Credit.

When the cap was first introduced, the level of the cap applied through:

- Housing Benefit was:
 - £500 a week for couples with or without children, and lone parents
 - £350 a week for single adults who don't have children, or whose children don't live with them
- Universal Credit was:
 - £2,167 a month for joint claimants and single claimants with children
 - £1,517 a month for single claimants who don't have children, or whose children don't live with them.

From late autumn 2016, the level of the benefit cap applied either through Housing Benefit or Universal Credit will be:

- for claimants living in Greater London*:
 - £442.31 a week or £1,916.67 a month for couples, with or without children, and lone parents
 - £296.35 a week or £1,284.17 a month for single claimants
 - for claimants living anywhere else in Great Britain:
 - £384.62 a week or £1,666.67 a month for couples, with or without children, and lone parents
 - £257.69 a week or £1,116.67 a month for single claimants
- * By Greater London we mean the City of London and the 32 London boroughs.
