The Hedgerows Regulations 1997

- Responsibility for any requests pursuant to the Hedgerow Regulations 1997 outside Bill limits should remain with the appropriate regulatory authorities. Local authorities would still be required to approve plans relating to hedgerows falling under these regulations. The Hybrid Bill is not the vehicle to amend the Hedgerow Regulations 1997.
- Furthermore, no environmental impact assessment of land beyond the Bill limits has been conducted.
- The Promoter will continue to liaise closely with affected communities, including landowners/occupiers and local authorities, to foster understanding of the Proposed Scheme and its impacts.
- Where a farmer/rural landowner wishes to apply to the relevant local authority for the removal of hedges in consequence of the effect of the Proposed Scheme, the Promoter may provide a letter, on the landowner's request, explaining what it proposes to do and any changes anticipated from the Proposed Scheme.
- The effect of severance on the utility of fields forming part of the farm holding is taken into account in the assessment of land compensation payable to the landowner/occupier.
