Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing in response to your request for information regarding the below received on 7 July 2015. Your request has been handled under Section 1(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. In accordance with Section 1(1)(a) of the Act I hereby confirm that the CNC/CNPA does not hold information of the type specified.

I would be grateful if you could provide the following information for FYs 2011-12, 2012-13 and 2013-14. If this is not possible, please provide the information that best fits these parameters:

- I. Number of Potential Victims of Trafficking (PVoTs) identified by frontline operational activity*.
- II. Number of PVoTs referred to the National Referral Mechanism
- III. Number of suspects arrested for human trafficking offences.
- IV. Number of suspects charged with human trafficking offences.
- V. A list of offences used to charge those identified at (4), with a total number of charges for each offence (eg Offence A – 6; Offence B – 2).
- VI. Number of successful convictions, by offence (as identified at (5)).

In addition to this, please provide the number of arrests, charges and convictions for offences under the Modern Slavery Act 2015 since it became effective, if applicable.

(* = 'frontline operational activity' should be taken to mean law enforcement activity resulting in PVoTs being identified, rather than referrals by third parties to your Force/Agency. If records do not allow this distinction to be made, please say so and provide the total number of PVoTs identified by your Force/Agency).

The Civil Nuclear Constabulary is a specialist armed police service dedicated to the civil nuclear industry, with Operational Policing Units based at 11 civil nuclear sites in England, Scotland and Wales and over 1400 police officers and staff. The Constabulary headquarters is at Culham in Oxfordshire. The civil nuclear industry forms part of the UK's critical national infrastructure and the role of the Constabulary contribute to the overall framework of national security.

The purpose of the Constabulary is to protect licensed civil nuclear sites and to safeguard nuclear material in transit. The Constabulary works in partnership with the appropriate Home Office Police Force or Police Scotland at each site. Policing services required at each site are agreed with nuclear operators in accordance with the Nuclear Industries Security Regulations 2003 and ratified by the UK regulator, the Office for Nuclear Regulation (ONR). Armed policing services are required at most civil nuclear sites in the United Kingdom. The majority of officers in the Constabulary are Authorised Firearms Officers.

The Constabulary is recognised by the Association of Chief Police Officers of England, Wales and Northern Ireland (ACPO) and the Association of Chief Police Officers in Scotland (ACPOS). Through the National Coordinated Policing Protocol, the Constabulary has established memorandums of understanding with the local police forces at all 11 Operational Policing Units. Mutual support and assistance enable the Constabulary to maintain focus on its core role.
