

Vacancies on the UK Space Exploration Advisory Committee

The UK Space Agency is seeking two new members to join its Space Exploration Advisory Committee. The Committee is responsible for advising the Agency on matters relating to robotic and human space exploration programmes and meets four times a year. The next meeting is scheduled for 10th September 2015.

The Committee's remit includes advising on UK participation in European exploration programmes (including Mars exploration and the International Space Station) and national level activities in support of these programmes.

Nominations are welcomed for two new members, representing the following fields:

- Robotics and autonomy for space science and exploration;
- Biological sciences relevant to space exploration.

Please submit a nomination to Charlotte Blake-Kerry, UK Space Agency, Polaris House, North Star Avenue, Swindon SN2 1SZ or by email to charlotte.blakekerry@ukspaceagency.bis.gsi.gov.uk.

Closing date for nominations is 16:00, 17.07.15