Dear

Thank you for your email of 12 February 2015 requesting the following information:

"I would be grateful if you could help me to access the full report on the REMEDIATION of CDE NANCEKUKE at Portreath in Cornwall. The remediation was overseen by the Department of the Environment and the report was placed in the public domain in 1980."

I am treating your correspondence as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA).

A search for the information has now been completed within the Ministry of Defence, and I can confirm that all the information in scope of your request is held.

The information you have requested can be found attached, but some of the information falls entirely within the scope of the absolute exemptions provided for section 40 (Personal Data) of the FOI and has been redacted.

Section 40(2) has been applied to some of the information in order to protect personal information as governed by the Data Protection Act 1998. Section 40 is an absolute exemption and there is therefore no requirement to consider the public interest in making a decision to withhold the information.

Yours sincerely,

DIO Secretariat

If you remain dissatisfied following an internal review, you may take your complaint to the Information Commissioner under the provisions of Section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act. Please note that the Information Commissioner will not investigate your case until the MOD internal review process has been completed.
