¹ As a large proportion of smaller estates do not require a grant of representation, the smaller estates will be under represented in the statistics.

Notes on the table

1. This table shows Identified Wealth, i.e. the wealth owned by estates represented by those passing through probate in each year, grossed up to that of the living using mortality rates
 2. Not all estates require a grant of representation, and hence the identified wealth does not represent the entire population. For 2008-10, this covers 31% of estates.
 3. The data contained in the tables are not subject to revisions unless there is, for example, a substantial change in the source data or methodology.
