I wish to express my condolences on the occasion of Mrs Thatcher's death. I have very nice memories when I was introduced to her in this residence during her visit to Belgrade as a Prime Minister. My impression was that that day at first for a short time she seemed to be just an ordinary woman.

On behalf of my nation, I would like to express our deepest sympathy.
Our thoughts are with the people of the United Kingdom.

The world has lost a respected leader who was dedicated to the values of freedom and democracy. Baroness Thatcher's contribution to the restoration of democracy in my country cannot and will not be forgotten. She helped to change the face of the world so firmly divided on two competing blocs through her endless courage and strong will to fight an ideology which she perceived wrong.

She was an extraordinary brave and resolute personality, characteristics lack by so many politicians today. During her first visit to Belgrade in capacity of Minister for culture and education, walking along Sredarskiq, an old Gipsy woman - fortune teller told her that she would become a prime minister. It was unthinkable at the time. Rest in peace.

Also on behalf of the staff of the Netherlands Embassy in Belgrade, I present my sincere condolences to the family of Baroness Margaret Thatcher and to the British people. She was one of the great political leaders of the late twentieth century, transforming British society at a time that this was needed, was unwavering in her support for freedom, human rights and universal values, and the Transatlantic Alliance in an area that witnessed the end of the Cold War. She was an outstanding example to many women and men who are working for a better world. We owe her much!

her commitment to public service and to the promotion of freedom among the family of nations." Be her memory in benediction!
