Dear Colleague

Government Response following the consultation on further amendments to the Teachers' Pension Scheme Regulations 2014

I wrote to you on 29 January to invite comments on a further set of amending regulations in respect of the reformed Teachers' Pension Scheme. These cover three technical changes to the Teacher's Pension Scheme Regulations 2014. The amendments are needed to correct typing errors and ensure the arrangements work fully as intended in line with previous consultations on the regulations involved.

We received two responses, both of which were broadly supportive of the proposed legislation. We have taken account of the comments made and have concluded that no changes are required to the proposed regulations following consultation.

The regulations have now been laid in Parliament and subject to Parliament's consideration of them they are due to come into force on 1 April 2015.

Yours sincerely

Jeff Rogerson
