FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000 REQUEST REF: 0617-16

Thank you for your email of 23 June 2016 asking for information under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 2000. You asked:

This is a journalist in the British Virgin Islands who recently made a FOI request for a copy of a Infrastructure UK report on the proposed expansion of the Terrance B. Lettsome International Airport.

My request was sent to the Infrastructure and Projects Authority, whose website says I should sent inquiries to the following e-mail address:

publiccorrespondence@cabinetoffice.gov.uk. However, I received a response from the Cabinet Office that the document I seek isn't held by the Cabinet Office -- even though that's the e-mail linked to by the IPA.

I'm wondering what e-mail address should I send my request to in order to ensure that the proper persons receive it? Might the FCO have this document?

I am writing to confirm that we have now completed the search for the information which you requested.

I can confirm that the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) does hold information relevant to your request.

Please find attached the information that we can release to you in full.

Once an FOI request is answered, it is considered to be in the public domain. To promote transparency, we may now publish the response and any material released on gov.uk in the FOI releases section. All personal information in the letter will be removed before publishing.

The copies of information being supplied to you continue to be protected by the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including any non-commercial research you are doing and for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder. Most documents supplied by the FCO will have been produced by government officials and will be protected by Crown Copyright. To re-use Crown Copyright documents please consult the Open Government Licence v3 on the National Archives website.

Information you receive which is not subject to Crown Copyright continues to be protected by the copyright of the person, or organisation, from which the information originated. You must ensure that you gain their permission before reproducing any third party (non-Crown Copyright) information.

Yours sincerely,

Overseas Territories Directorate

We keep and use information in line with the Data Protection Act 1998. We may release this personal information to other UK government departments and public authorities.
