

Who are TNS BMRB?

TNS BMRB are an independent agency specialising in social research. Here are some examples of their work:

The Crime Survey for England and Wales – this is a high profile survey on behalf of the Home Office. 35,000 interviews with adults and 3,000 interviews with children aged 10 to 15 are completed per year, asking them about their experiences of crime over the previous 12 months.

Change4Life Campaign Evaluation – TNS BMRB conducts an ongoing evaluation of the Department of Health's Change4Life campaign, which aims to help adults and families improve their diet and be more physically active. The research measures the effectiveness of the Change4Life brand and also different elements of campaign activity through interviews with mothers of 0-11 year olds, adults aged 35-64 and other key audiences.

Taking Part

England's Survey of Culture, Leisure and Sport

INVESTORS
IN PEOPLE

Why have I been contacted?

Your household has been selected for the 2013/14 Taking Part survey. This important survey is being conducted by TNS BMRB on behalf of the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) and its partner organisations.

Its aim is to find out how people choose to spend their time, and their views on the leisure activities and facilities available to them.

This leaflet contains more information about the survey and why we are carrying it out. We hope that you will take part and find the survey interesting.

What is the Taking Part survey?

DCMS is the Government department which aims to improve the quality of life for all through sporting and cultural activities.

We have asked TNS BMRB to talk to you to find out what you do in your own time and what you think of local facilities.

The results of the survey will help DCMS and its partners understand what helps or hinders people taking part in these activities.

The survey covers a variety of topics such as:

- Sport and active recreation
- Visits to museums, galleries and heritage sites
- Use of libraries and archives
- Arts events and activities
- Volunteering and charitable giving
- The London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games

Everyone's views and experiences are valuable. It is important to interview you even if you don't participate in any activities or you don't think your views are relevant. The results need to be representative of everyone in England.

10,000 adults and 1,000 children will be interviewed for the 2013/14 survey. Further information about the survey is available at:

<https://www.gov.uk/taking-part-information-for-survey-participants>

Why has my address been chosen?

Your address has been randomly selected from the Post Office's list of addresses in England. It is important to have a strictly random selection, so that the results reflect the experiences and views of the whole population.

Who will be interviewed?

The interviewer does not know anything in advance about you or your household but he/she will need to randomly select one adult (aged 16 or over) from each address. Once selected, the interviewer is not allowed to interview another adult.

As part of this survey we are also talking to children. We need to understand how much time they spend doing sports and cultural activities – both in and out of school – so that we can improve the opportunities available to them.

If the selected adult is the parent or guardian of a child aged 5-10, we would like to ask them about their child's interests. If there is a child aged 11-15 at the address, we would like them to take part in their own short interview. The interviewer will ask for written permission from the parent or guardian before conducting the interview.

What happens next?

An interviewer will call at your home within the next couple of weeks. He/she will show you an identification card and will be able to answer any questions you have.

If the selected person is unable to do the interview at the time, the interviewer will be happy to arrange a more convenient time.

Is the information I give confidential?

It is entirely confidential:

- Your name and address details are kept separate from your answers and will not be passed to any other organisation, including DCMS and its partner organisations, without your expressed permission.
- No individual will be identifiable from the results. Your answers will be combined with others who take part in the survey.

Will I be contacted again?

A small proportion of interviews are checked to ensure that the interviewer acted in a professional manner and that the information you gave was recorded accurately. You may receive a phone call or letter to confirm this.
